

Have you just found out you're pregnant?

It is important that you register your pregnancy around 8 weeks to ensure the best care for you and your baby

Registering your pregnancy early helps you and your baby receive the right care, support, and health checks as soon as possible

- Keep you and your baby healthy
- Identify any concerns early
- Arranges important scans and screening tests
- Provide advice on healthy pregnancy choices
- Offer emotional and wellbeing support

Screening is a part of your pregnancy journey, and it is always a choice.
